HELLEBORES

Helleborus Ashwood Garden Hybrids should be top of everyone's list of winter flowering plants. The beauty of their flowers is unsurpassed and will give you stunning colour from mid-winter to late spring.

They are sure to delight whether you choose singles, doubles or anemone-form. Don't forget the hellebore species in your planting scheme: they will also enchant with their subtle natural beauty, while some have fine architectural foliage
